

SUSTAINABILITY

Our coffins are one of the most ecological options, utmost care is put into sourcing all the materials. Organic hemp is used for the load-bearing rope handles, local timber for the fixings and frame slats. Woven Farewell is one of the only coffin manufacturers to donate profits to charity. We give 5% of our profits to the Woodland Trust, reflecting the central place that death has within life.

Nameplates

Our nameplates are carefully handpainted onto local ash wood

Our willow coffins are woven in a petal shape with one flat and one rounded end, using willow grown in Somerset. They are lined with biodegradable leak proof plastic and a calico cotton layer. The coffin design can be varied on request to add different willow colours, be woven with two round ends or in a traditional coffin shape. They are certified for cremation, appropriate for burial, and compliant with natural burial site regulations. Our coffins are weight tested to 20 stone and can be delivered within 48 hours of payment.

WEAVE WITH US

As part of our passion for family empowered funerals, we welcome you to come and help us weave part of the coffin in our workshop in East Devon or the East Midlands. This experience is provided at no extra cost and no experience in weaving is necessary, but it's important to let us know in good time - especially if you require a brown (unstripped willow) coffin. If you'd like us to take photos or a short video of your coffin process instead of visiting in person, we're very happy to do so.
